My dear Mrs Adams -

We have you in much the same since I wrote last The Ph^{ans} must again I judge be a still of nervous that something is gathering - the nervous the side continues very good as well as a constant pain in the head which they say belongs to the complaint. As she is so nervous & dull from the nervous in the head I am I need not be blamed at first, but as they a few are it would be thing to make myself as easy as I can & about They still speak hopefully as to its shape being all well in time but the situation they allow is a most precarious one & much will & must depend on her strength - She keeps quite in bed & only gets up to leave the bed room - The accounts of her real condition very alarming to day I rec^d her notes of arrival that the fever is come on again

 The L & S & all my sisters are quite well I go on taking my walk every day

I hope will

Love

Ann
