Memorandum

I am ignorant what became of the Clocks at the Observatory with the exception of the Regulator made by my Father, which was sold at Christie's, with the rest of the Duke of Sussex's Clocks & Watches. This Clock my Father always considered at the best he ever made, it was made on purpose for George the 3d & the period the Observatory was first started. I was very anxious it should be kept & put up in the new Palace West-minster & in the mean time in the Speakers Private Room, & entered & predicted that if it went to Westminster Palace it would eventually be sold & pay the Duke of Sussex's debts, which soon after came to pass
