July 6: 1826

Dear Sir,

I was of ^{the} July and its various meetings made suggestions and I am, return the paper for perusal and Mr. Prescott's letter.

I thought Mr. May's report is so well drawn and wish there had been more; but the quality must make up for the quantity. The Committee doubt of the exactness of C. I think I think it prudent to let him have this year clear income the entire points. I wish to see the report in my absence. I have the best judgment of the proper time to draw in the Coals. I think Mr. Wilson might in bringing the mine into the cellar in bottles and in need.

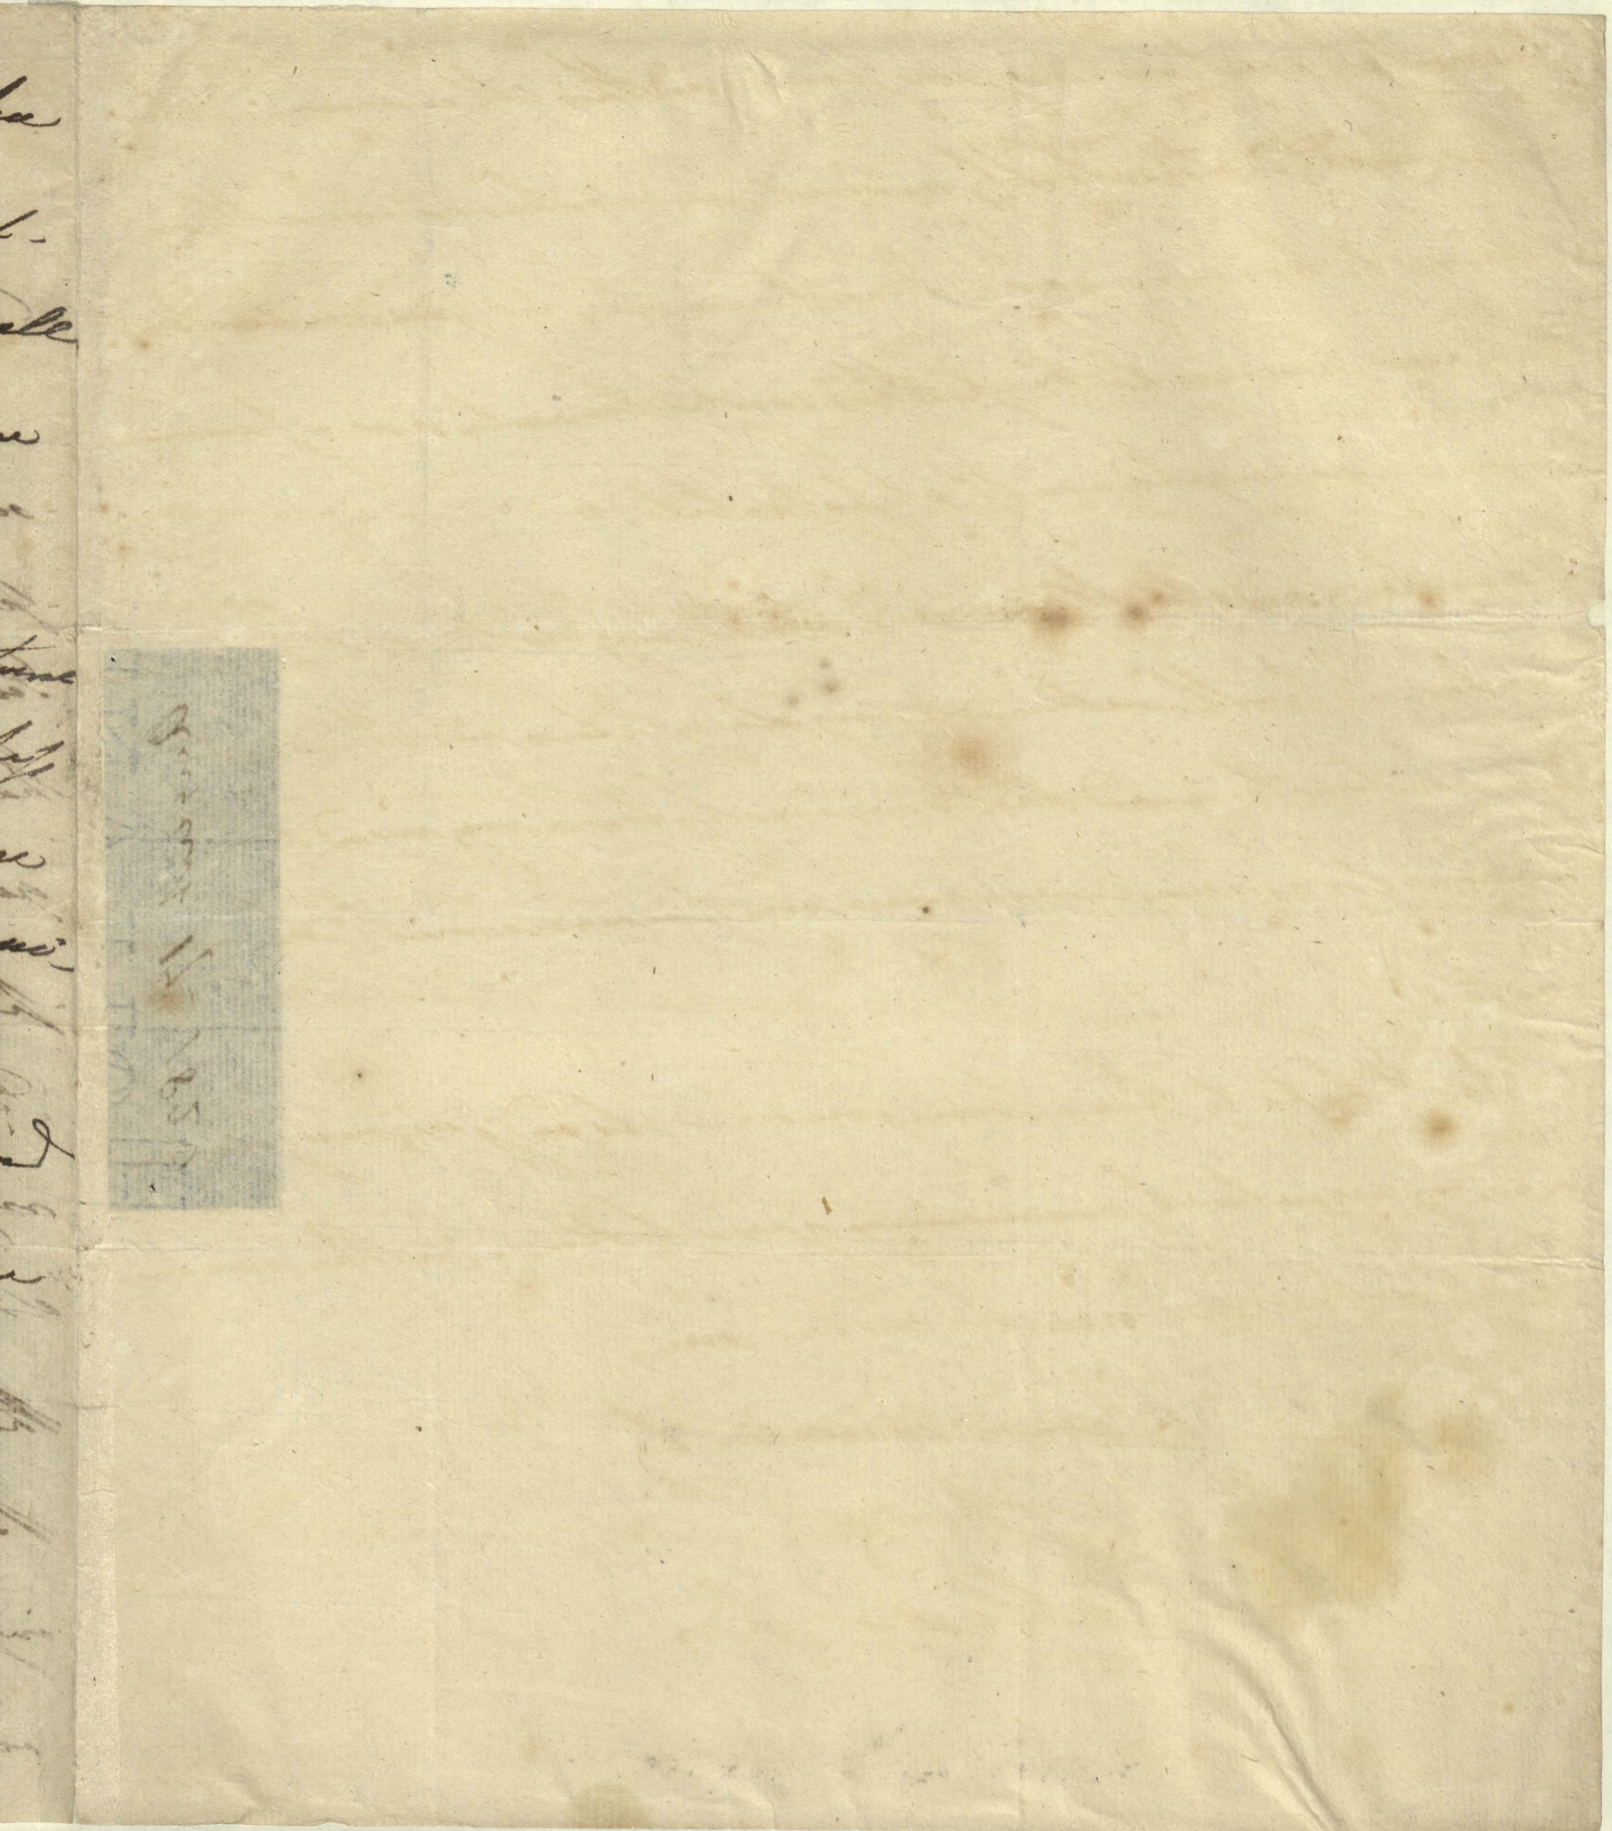

By the silence of Mr. Prescott's I was apprehensive the infatuated and in health. I suggest as well not going on to our wishes. Your letter and the one from Mr. Prescott I am for.

to watch over him, my suspicion and this ill conceived idea of jealousy is directly against my wishes and equally adverse to his own good. I make no doubt you will be able in your power to keep this unfortunate from from injuring himself if possible.

I am here and shall remain with my sister till ^{the} winter when I shall return to my dear father and the Deities at his estate and then sincerely trust my mind to home where for so many reasons my presence will be neces-sary.

I shall hope to hear from you shortly and you may depend on my regularly answering your letters. In the mean time adieu and ever believe me,

Yours sincerely
 A. S.
