The Charlotte

9 June 1794

Sir

I am much obliged to you for your congratulations on the event of our fortunate day. I don't know how to render better justice to the meritorious Services of the Officers to whose spirited exertions that success is to be ascribed, than by forwarding their own Narrations of them, to the Admiralty; with the more general Statement of the principal Occurrences, which my limited view of things during the Continuance of the Action, did not allow me in my Observation, originally to recite. I am with great regard, Yours intirely Howe

Capt Payne.
