Sir

When you offered me your statement this morning I told you that I had already seen it, and also Baron Eben, who had commissioned me to desire immediate satisfaction of you for the contents - You answered, "With all my heart". But on my informing you where I lodged and desiring you to let me know what time &c would be convenient, you then said, "You would consider of it, & was proceeding to state reasons, when I left you, with a request that you would send your determination to my lodgings, which you complied with — I must say therefore I am a little surprised at the answer I have just received —

Baron Eben desires me to repeat his first demand " that you will give him immediate satisfaction for the insult he has received, and insists on an unequivocal answer

I am his good humble servant
