R. M. M. G. Marlow

18 March 1807

Sir,

Relying upon Your Royal Highness's goodness I presume to request You to peruse the enclosed Letter and if it meets Your Approbation to have it sealed and transmitted to His Royal Highness The Prince of Wales

The Successor to General Jarry (lately dead) will be required to superintend the Studies at the Junior as well as at the Senior Department, consequently that duty will not be expected of the Major. and I flatter myself no Officer of the
His Royal Highness
The Duke of Clarence

Establishment will consider me unequal to undertake the military duties - besides I have reason to believe that the Governor has not yet been able to procure a person eligible to the situation who would accept of it and I fear if I have the misfortune to fail in this Application that all future prospects of Promotion must be completely done away -

I have the Happiness to inform Your Royal Highness that Master George improves fast, in diligence, study, dress & appearance and that I expect he will be in the 2^d Remove both in French and Arithmetic by the 6th of April. He is in perfect health & sends his Love to your Royal Highness & to his Mama.

I humbly beg pardon for the liberty I take and request You to believe me to be with fidelity & gratitude

Sir

Your Royal Highness's most obedient most faithful and most devoted servant
James O'Brien
