My dear Aunt's kind letter came me this morning, for which I return her many thanks, as well as for a former letter which conveyed, as every thing that she writes to me, all that is kind & pleasant. Your young child delights me, you know how I don't suppose I do, but I look forward to see her, under your tutelage, & imbibing your precepts.
My dear Lady I am confident she will turn out what the good of Father can wish her to be. Pray take care of yourself for her sake, & for my sake for I do not know what would become of the dear Infant if it was not protected from the continued bad examples she would perpetually have before her eyes.

I mean to be in Town on Tuesday night therefore it would be necessary to have her, as the first thing I shall think of will be the seeing her in the morning.
I shall likewise see your dear Lady in the course of Wednesday, when we will
