Sunday May

My Dear Father

I throw myself at your indulgence most respectfully, to assure you that I am most ready & willing on all occasions to meet you with pleasure - that in humbly repeating my feelings to you, I most sincerely shall not be vexed with the name of disobedient, or disobedient should we then be say that that they would have at home being been informed of the resignation of Mr. Pitt of consequence at that that there the last to hand of just the way one talked of it it reached my ears by hearing I more particularly to the kind of political promise

Governor at 14 - I think it my duty also to state, before any final arrangements are made with the Duke of York, that I have no personal objection to her, having therefore the Duke being appointed to my lady, but that under the name of Governor she acts, either her or any one else I never can favour with trust or submit to, or hold her in such a light - As I never recommended or approved of her I shall be happy to receive or disagreeable from her as to her opinion of lady, I will never I think or for little the or disapproving of her conduct toward her - I must Governor take this, I must My request into consideration

I must not upon the fixed determination to maintain it with the least disaffection or obstinacy towards your I should be indeed, as I will have to be his name
