My dear brother

we are very uneasy a bout Charls I fear he wont recover; tho' the Doctors give us hopes that there is no imediate danger but I nor the Prince can not be persuaded that they speak the truth for its really frightful to see what he indures from Camps I can not stay in the room when he comes, the servant is returned from London & has told me how affectionately you received the account of my have in a second son god grant that he ever remains so I ever am my dear est brother

Your most dutiful
Subject & sister
Augusta.
